

Vote Your Values

When we meet people's basic needs—housing, health care, education—everyone can thrive.

Ensuring that everyone has access to housing will make our communities stronger and more vibrant—criminalizing unhoused people will not.

Harm reduction approaches to address the overdose crisis will save lives and make our communities safer—further criminalizing drug use will not.

Stronger oversight will make police more accountable to the people they serve, including people of color, people with lower incomes, and people with disabilities—more police and prisons will not.

Our communities are struggling. We all know it and we can all feel it. That's why we need leadership that prioritizes justice, equity, and compassion.

*Town Meeting Day is March 5. Find out which policies your candidates support. Then, vote your values.
